

Meet YaYa — Your Child's AI Reading Companion

WaWaYaYa Joyreader • AI Reading Companion

In an era of rapid AI development, WaWaYaYa Joyreader is excited to introduce its new AI Reading Companion feature. For select Chinese and English picture books in the App, we have created YaYa — an AI companion that reads along with your child.

YaYa guides children through illustrations and text, and encourages them to think beyond the story — using both on-screen text and expressive voice. Through role-play and interactive questions, YaYa turns reading into a conversation, so every child wants to read more.

Sees the Story: Automatically recognizes images and text in each picture book, enabling guided narration and character learning.

Reads It Well: Expressive, lively voice narration that brings every story to life.

Answers Right Away: Responds to children's questions in real time, guiding them to think and understand more deeply.

Makes It Fun: Role-play and interactive Q&A — YaYa is both a little teacher and a reading buddy.

With YaYa by their side, every child takes their reading to the next level.

Feature Overview

What is it?

AI Reading Companion is a new add-on feature in WaWaYaYa Joyreader. Once enabled, a friendly girl avatar — YaYa — appears on the reading screen. Children can talk to YaYa freely using their voice, just like having a reading buddy right beside them.

Designed for young Chinese learners overseas who may find typing difficult, YaYa uses voice-only interaction — no typing needed, just speak and play.

How to use it?

1. Open an eligible Chinese or English picture book.
2. YaYa's avatar appears on the reading screen.
3. Say "Hello, YaYa" (or "你好，丫丫"), or tap YaYa's avatar, to start chatting.
4. YaYa guides your child through reading — looking at pictures, learning characters, asking questions, role-playing, and answering questions along the way.

What can YaYa do?

- Guides children to observe illustrations and recognize characters
- Reads stories aloud with expressive, engaging narration
- Engages children through questions and role-play
- Answers children's questions in real time as they read
- Encourages critical thinking and expands reading comprehension
